Please consider my opinion that the last thing we need in CT is three more casinos. Why would we even consider this when the existing casinos and OTB's are dropping in revenue every year. Gambling takes disposable income, which none of have any more because Connecticut has driven out too many jobs and tax those of us that stay to death! If the state is that desperate for money, stop making it more attractive for too many of our residents to live off the dole than to get a job. Make CT a "Business Friendly" State where more businesses and people working will bring in the funds. Study the fall of the Roman Empire where its' citizens realized they could vote people into government that would allow them not to work or pay taxes. When the Legions could no longer be paid, you know the rest of the story....
